Board Report - Technology

Instead of writing a several thousand word report, allow me to submit these images for your edification. These images are being used to show you some of the changes we've made in "the loft" of the middle school. Once known as "the bat cave", Brian, Joel and I (mostly Brian and Joel) have taken steps to raise the bar for the quality of life for those who work in that area.

I've tapped my shopping skills (Goodwill of course) to provide a number of striking objets d'art.

The lighting issues were addressed by using equipment that has been out of service (both the bulbs and the "shades").

Marine Deck paint was used to help control the dust and other problems associated with a bare plywood floor. Throw a few “decorative flakes” and you begin to see the sophistication that most of the technicians seem to have by their very nature. It’s an odd group for sure... but aesthetically sensitive.
